YORK SPRINGS SPOTTER POST HAD BEST MARK

The three Ground Observer Corps spotter stations in Adams County continued on only part time operations during last week, Crosby Hartzell, chief observer for the county, said today.

York Springs, where the Gardners area residents were on duty during the week, set the best record, with 68 on-duty out of the needed 98 for full time operation.

The McKnightstown, Seven Stars, Mummasburg area, Hartzell said, provided only 16 of the 98 needed to keep the Orrtanna spotter post on duty throughout the week.

And Gettysburg had the poorest record, with only 15 of the needed 98 on duty.

Hartzell extended an invitation to anyone, whether they are members of the ground observation corps or not, to take part in a bus trip to the Baltimore filter center April 23. The trip to see how the filter operates to track planes over this section of the U.S. will be free of charge to those making it. They will travel by army buses.

Persons wishing to take the trip need only make reservations with any spotter or chief observer or his assistants. A spotter may register for the trip by signing slips at the various spotter stations.

The buses will leave from the York Springs spotter post and from the Cashtown Fire House April 25 at 1 p.m. and from Lincoln Square in Gettysburg at 1:25 p.m. on that date.

So far 38 have signed for the trip at York Springs, 24 at Orrtanna and eight at Gettysburg.

STYLIST FINDS 'CONSERVATISM' IS RULE TODAY IN MEN'S WEAR

NEW YORK (P)—The highest compliment Kate Kronfeld can give a man is to call him meticulous. The dictionary defines this as solicitous about minute details. But to Kate, men's stylist and clothing retailer to the Broadway trade, the word is a synonym for "well dressed."

And here, from the vantage point of her main stem haberdashery, is what Kate Kronfeld finds in today's natty dresser:

This Is Conservative?

"He's conservative now, and that's different from a few years ago. If he wears a gray suit, he wears a vest of lighter gray. Or a fine blue and white check vest with a navy suit. Everything is very conservative. Southerners wear tuxedos, light gray silk jackets and gun medal trousers, or champagne jackets and dark brown trousers, or white silk jackets with navy blue trousers."

Mrs. Kronfeld was willing to outline specially what the best dressed show business clientele is interested in:

"Everything narrow — narrow tapes, narrow neckties and narrow hat brim—not wider than 2½ inches. Narrow shoulders, no padding. The sleeves of the jacket are about 1½ inches from the end of his shirt cuffs so the handsome links on his French cuffs can be seen. His trousers hit the tops of his shoes without breaking the front crease. He does NOT wear suede shoes, or sports shirts outside his belt—and he wears a belt—no suspenders—and he probably doesn't wear garters."

Of course, added the trim, blonde haberdasher, he breaks out a fresh, carefully laundered shirt each day and wears freshly pressed suits.

Fussy Show-Folk

Show business people have a commercial interest in their clothes and are apt to be fussy and to have firm ideas about their own style. Jose Greco, the dancer for instance, likes to have his street clothes almost as form fitting as his tight dance clothes—an idiosyncrasy Mrs. Kronfeld disapproves.

But for the most part she approves her customers' tastes. That might be because most of them have confidence in her judgment. Thus she is one of the few women who help dictate mens' styles.

Jimmy Durante goes for quiet $10 ties and classic raincoats; George Jessel is one of her best dress-shirt customers, including her special line of powder-blue jobs for TV performers. The other day Martin and Lewis dropped in, and Dean picked up three $20 hats (narrow brims) and Jerry carried off 18 sports shirts—conservative, not Truman-type. Milton Berle, a problem because he wears 17½ shirt, is a customer too, and Irving Berlin is very fond of Kate's $60 Jacquard pajamas.

Kate, who took over the business after her husband's death 12 years ago, doesn't look back on the old days with misted eyes, although Kronfeld's was a famous establishment for high class clothes even then. Those were the free-wheeling days of Prohibition, and an interesting relationship between the underworld and the world of the theater.

Classy Capone

There was a time in this wide-open city when it was considered almost a disgrace to be found shot in anything less than a custom-made suit and $40 hat bearing the store's label. The great Capone himself was a customer and so was Lucky Luciano, now an exile, presumably fashioned in the hands of Italian tailors. Mrs. Kronfeld doesn't like to talk about tough-boy trade even today, except to remark casually they didn't care what they spent and that many of them ordered their full coats written out the length of their shirt sleeves or even—she shudders—on their expensive underpants!

Most of the freebooter trade has taken its business elsewhere, but Kronfeld's still attracts the well-heeled and natty. There's brisk business in custom-made shirts at $40, with the monogram thrown in free; $8.50 socks, $250 suits and made-to-measure vicuna coats for $750—a giveaway at the price.

Damon Runyon, in the old days, used to fly in from the coast just to order up his perennial favorite—a belted cashmere of very light beige which guaranteed you couldn't miss him in a crowd.

"Men," explained Mrs. Kronfeld earnestly, "have learned their lesson. They've discovered that, in spite of all the talk, that gay plummage isn't what they want. They know that it isn't gaudy neckties that attract the right kind of women, but it's being meticulous about it."

She paused, then added: "Fine feathers are for birds, not men."

A statement presented by the AAA made these points:

"In considering problems of land use, there frequently are two viewpoints in direct conflict. One of them: 'Conserve the parks, unblemished and untrod.' The other: 'Develop the park lands for commercial uses.' There is, however, a third viewpoint, and a middle ground. The parks should be seen and understood by all; the view without the viewer is the same as no view. But we should preserve and protect nature's finest outposts from invasion and destruction. In commercial terms, the parks, as parks, are of the utmost significance for the travel they generate."

Local sewing center experts have come up with a series of smart suggestions on how to use transparent tape to tidy up your sewing kit, and to achieve some ingenious shortcuts in sewing as well.

1—Wrap a strip of tape around your left-over scraps to keep them in order. It's a good idea to indicate approximate yardage on a slip under the tape.

2—Mend a torn paper pattern with tape, and use it for pattern adjustments instead of pins.

3—Keep an orderly sewing basket by taping loose ends of binding, rick-rack or braid to the card.

Quick Seaming Tip

4—Here's a tip for quick seaming. Fold transparent tape around the material every four inches. It's quicker and easier than basting. If you have trouble stitching a narrow seam, mark the line with tape and use the edges as your guide.

5—When sewing nylon, the needle frequently drops down too far in the throatplate hole and puckers the nylon. Remedy: Make a small square of brown wrapping paper to fit over the throatplate hole, and tape it to your machine. Your needle will just puncture the paper and offer less resistance to the fabric.

6—Transparent tape is indispensable in sewing on plastics. Pinning and basting leave holes which may rip, but transparent tape holds the fabric in place. The needle sees right through it, and may be ripped off easily.

Button Box Jumble

7—To eliminate the jumble of a button box, try sandwiching odd buttons between strips of transparent tape. The entire length may be seen at a glance, and the buttons are snipped off as needed.

8—Rick-rack and other narrow trims go on straight when they are taped in place. Stitch over the tape and rip it off.

9—When making bound buttonholes, tape the facing to the button-hole area. Tape applies and pockets in place, too, to prevent slipping.

You will be able to devise many other ways of using transparent tape in your sewing basket, and you'll soon wonder how you ever sewed without it.

Deputy Carries Boot Charm For 13 Years

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Mike McGraw deputy U. S. marshal here, has carried his son's first baby shoe as a good luck charm for 13 years. He has it hanging on the rear-view mirror of four automobiles and during the war, kept it in the pocket of his army uniform.

HARRISBURG (P)—An expanded Pennsylvania weather service by the U. S. Weather Bureau, including daily pin-pointed forecasts for eight areas of the state, will go into effect April 1.

In making the announcement, the bureau said its general eastern and western Pennsylvania forecasts will be supplemented by the zone forecasts.

The zones will include the northwestern, southwestern, central, mountain, upper, middle and lower Susquehanna River, Pocono and the southeast areas.

Present Plan "Too General"

L. F. Conover, meteorologist in charge of the Harrisburg Weather Bureau, termed the eastern and western Pennsylvania forecasts "so generalized that varied weather in Pennsylvania could not be completely covered by two forecasts."

He said in a statement "there was a side no-man's land in central Pennsylvania, so that it was often difficult to determine the forecaster's ideas of prospective weather from the state forecast as issued."

He explained that the state will be covered by eight sectional forecasts. The Weather Bureau office in Pittsburgh will issue a release covering the weather for the south, western and northwestern counties in addition to its local forecast.

10 Years Of Development

"Philadelphia will issue a forecast for the extreme southeastern counties," the statement said. "At Harrisburg, five sectional forecasts will be issued embracing most of the remainder of the state."

Conover said the plan for section forecasts "has been developed over the past 10 years and is primarily based upon the climatological records gathered during the last 25 to 50 years showing the areas of homogeneous temperature and precipitation."

Local forecasts, in addition, will continue to be available at Reading, Scranton, Williamsport and Allentown Weather Bureau offices.

at the 10:30 a.m. worship. Mr. Sell, who will be graduated in May, will be the sixth son from Christ Church to enter the ministry. Mr. Sell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Sell, near town.

PARIS TREATY RATIFIED BY WEST GERMANY

BONN, Germany (P)—West Germany has nearly completed ratification of the European Army Treaty.

President Theodor Heuss signed the laws ratifying the Paris Treaty to set up a six-nation European Defense Community and the Bonn Treaty between the Western Allies and West Germany which will end the occupation as soon as EDC is effective.

One more step remained for the Germans—signature of the ratification instrument which has to be deposited in Paris, along with those of the other member nations.

The president's press officer said he would sign that tomorrow.

Netherlands Ready

So far only the Netherlands has deposited the ratification instrument in Paris. The Belgian Parliament has approved EDC but the King's signature is still required. The French, Italian and Luxembourg Parliaments still have not voted ratification.

In a move to ease the way for the French action, French High Commissioner Andre Francois-Poncet called on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today in an effort to get the stalled French-German talks on the Saar dispute under way again.

The spokesman, Maj. Mohamed Ishaq, senior Jordan military delegate to the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission, said the Israelis also demolished some houses they withdrew to Israel after an Israel.

EASTON, Pa. (P)—Mrs. Dorothy Cuddy, 40, was released in $10,000 bail Saturday in the fatal shooting of her husband, state police Cpl. Chester V. Cuddy, after Northampton County Asst. Dist. Atty. George Weltzman said an investigation of her husband's death "fails to reveal a capital case."

$3 Per Day Is Too Little: It is sheer parsimony in the great State of Pennsylvania to think of paying off the members of her Legislature at the paltry sum of $3 per day. It is placing a shameful under-valuation on the invaluable services of those faithful servants of the people, and the wonder is that in these "striking" days they do not strike, not only for higher wages, but also for a half-hour system. . . .Why Mr. Editor, just think of the arduous labor they have to go through. Think too of the imminent danger to which their invaluable lives are sometimes exposed on railroad excursions, etc. . . . S.

Smash-Up: On Sunday as Messrs.
J. P. Heindel and James McLean, accompanied by their wives and little children, were on their way from Littlestown to Gettysburg, both spindles of the right side of the vehicle suddenly broke, upsetting the machine and throwing the whole party violently to the ground. Fortunately none were seriously injured, though the ladies were more or less bruised. The carriage was a wreck. —News.New Store: H. B. Danner has opened a new Clothing Store in and Dr. Warren was sent for—but a portion of the stock netted $1,440.

Sudden Death: Mr. Joseph R.
Snyder, residing near Lottville, in Cumberland township, died very suddenly Thursday, March 2. He had suffered from disease of the heart
a week or more before, but on the day mentioned went to the barn to do some work in apparently usual health. Staying longer than was expected, his wife went to inquire into the detention, and found him in a sitting posture, motionless, if not lifeless. She at once gave an alarm, and Dr. Warren was sent for—butthe vital spark had fled. Deceased was aged 60 years and leaves a wife and a number of children to mourn their sudden and irreparable loss. —Compiler.Good Sales: Taking the spring sales as a whole, good prices have been realized for stock and farming implements—better than for several years. Especially has this been the case where sales have been liberally advertised. Mr. C. J. Tyson, or Flora Dale, not only advertised his sale in the STAR AND SENTINEL, but had attractive posters printed. The result was a large attendance, competitive bidding and good prices. His sale (only a portion of the stock) netted $1,440.

Jim Phelan, Former LaSalle Ace, Named Mount Cage Coach

James J. Phelan, a graduate of LaSalle College, Philadelphia, in 1951, has been appointed varsity basketball coach at Mount Saint Mary's College, effective in September, according to an announcement by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of the College. Phelan succeeds Coach Bill Clarke who has resigned to take a position at East Meadow High School, Long Island.

Phelan was for three years a top performer for Coach Ken Loefer's LaSalle cagers prior to his graduation. During that time he was for three years named to the All City Team by the Philadelphia Basketball Writers Association. Following his graduation the new Mountaineer coach served two years as a Marine Corps officer at Quantico, Va. While at Quantico he also starred for the Marine cagers leading his team to the All Marine finals. After his discharge he played with the Philadelphia Warriors in the NBA until his appointment as freshman coach at LaSalle, a position which he leaves to take over as head man for the Mountaineers.

Inherits Vet Squad

In addition to his experience at LaSalle he also served as assistant coach and freshman coach at LaSalle High School where he helped develop some of the outstanding stars who have won great acclaim at Villanova and LaSalle. At Quantico he was also assistant coach and director of intramural sports.

At Mount Saint Mary's the 26-year-old mentor inherits this year's Mason-Dixon Tournament champions. Only two squad members will be lost to the Mountaineers by graduation from an outfit that placed three men, Sal Angelo, Bill Stanley, and Jack Sullivan, on the league All Star Team and one other, Frank Smith, on the second team. This year the Mountaineers posted a 14-11 record and, although unseeded, swept into the tournament defeating Baltimore University, Roanoke, and Loyola to take the conference crown.

COACH JIM PHELAN

RUDY REGALDO POSES PROBLEM FOR AL LOPEZ

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Dilemmas—those things that chop years off the life of a major league manager—are nothing new to Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians. He's had a king-sized one since he took over the Tribe and has been trying to beat out the New York Yankees for the American League pennant.

But now he has a brand new one: what to do with Rudy Regaldo.

This 23-year-old rookie infielder has shown no respect for opposing pitchers since the start of spring training. At the moment he has clubbed nine home runs and is batting a cool .481 with 25 hits in 52 tries during the exhibition season.

Where Can He Play?

This sort of slugging would be enough to light the eyes of any manager. So Lopez' eyes lit.

But . . .

The kid can't field, or, at least it sure looks like he can't. He's a third baseman by trade, but there's no use battling Al Rosen for the position, so Lopez thought perhaps he'd go well at second base.

The Indians dropped another one to the New York Giants yesterday, 10-4. Rudy slugged two home runs and a pair of singles, but he also made two errors, one at second and one at third.

Orioles Amazing

So Lopez must decide whether Rudy will bat in or let in more runs and also is supposed to be able to get around at first base. That might provide the answer since first basemen are not paid to be acrobats.

Meanwhile, ancient Vic Raschi is warming the cockles of St. Louis Cardinal Manager Eddy Stanky's heart. He went five innings against his old mates and gave up five hits yesterday. The Cards won the ball game 4-2.

The amazing Baltimore Orioles continued to wield big bats. They clubbed the Chicago Cubs 19-14 with Don Lenhardt hitting three home runs and driving in seven runs.

Ferris Fain, the two-time American League batting king, collected two doubles and a single in the Chicago White Sox' 10-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Farm Teams Win

The Boston Red Sox turned back the Detroit Tigers 2-1 in 11 innings. Karl Olson hit a single off Dick Donovan to drive in the winning run.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 on the wings of Earl Torgerson's two-run homer, and the Philadelphia Athletics edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1 when starting pitcher Alex Kellner took matters into his own hands and hit a two-run double for the wingers.

The two major league clubs that got into action against their farmhands suffered disaster. The Atlanta Crackers dealt the Milwaukee Braves a 2-1 defeat and the Chattanooga Lookouts whipped the Washington Senators 4-3.

The Braves suffered another injury when catcher Sam Calderone jammed a finger in his throwing hand trying for a wild pitch by Warren Spahn.

DOMINATION OF WRESTLING BY OKLAHOMA SEEN NEARING ITS END

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Art Griffith, coach of the NCAA wrestling champion Oklahoma Aggies, predicted today Oklahoma's domination of the collegiate sport will come to an end next year.

"The national championship will begin rotating from one section of the country to the next," he said. "We're through after this year. We had the jump on other parts of the country because of our good high school wrestling programs in this state. But now everyone not only has matched up, they've gone right on us."

"Penn State's victory last year was the tipoff. That was the first time in the 24-year history of the NCAA tournament that a team east of the Mississippi had won the championship."

Missed 4 In 24

Griffith, whose Aggies won three individual championships in addition to the team trophy at Norman Saturday night, said, "no one is going to dominate it any longer."

A&M won its 17th championship at the Norman tournament. Oklahoma's Sooners, hosts this year, have garnered three titles. That leaves just four championships for outsiders in the 24-year history of the tournament.

Griffith attributed his team's victory this year to hustle. A&M placed fourth in 1953.

The three Aggie champions are Myron Roderick, 137; Gene Nicks, heavyweight; and Ned Glass, 177.

Other champions are Hugh Peery, Pittsburgh's three-time winner at 115; Joe Soloman, also of Pittsburgh, 167; Tommy Evans, Oklahoma 147-pounder voted the tournamament's outstanding wrestler; Norval Nalan, Michigan, 130 pounds; Richard Givig, Iowa, 123; Bob Hoke, Michigan State, 157; and Pete Blair, Navy, 191.

Behind A&M which piled up 32 points, were Pittsburgh 17, Penn State 13, Navy and Iowa 12, Michigan State 11, Ohio and Michigan 10, Lehigh 9, Syracuse 6, Purdue 5, Illinois 5, Minnesota 5, Indiana 4, Maryland 4, Nebraska 4, Wisconsin 4, Colorado 4, Kansas State 3, Kent State 2, Cornell (Iowa) 2, Colorado State 1, Springfield 1, Toledo 1, and Brigham Young 1.

Griffith went on:

"Everybody I talked to—and that includes most of the other coaches—says it was by far the toughest tournament they have ever seen. And they are getting progressively tougher."

"You wonder why Penn State won it in 1953? They have 217 high schoolers in Pennsylvania with wrestling programs. Here in Oklahoma we have 16. That's what I mean when I say they've gone right by us."

College Wrestling Making Big Comeback

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Wrestling, a once neglected college sport in the midwest, is coming back strong, in the opinion of Fendley Collins, Michigan State College wrestling coach.

Collins pointed out that all 10 members were represented in the 1954 Western Conference (Big Ten) wrestling championships and that all but two entered full eight-man teams.

"Wrestling is beginning to catch on as a high school sport in the midwest," Collins said. "There are a lot of fine boys coming up, and we're going to get more and more good wrestlers from our own midwest area."

Collins cited the Six-A High School League in Michigan as a good source of college wrestlers. It has two Lansing members and one each from Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Jackson and Kalamazoo.

Labels Sandlock A Tough Catcher

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Catcher Mike Sandlock should help the Phillips, says Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pirates.

"It's not that Sandlock will catch any better," says Rickey. "Six or seven pitchers will bounce off him but on the next pitch he will call for another knuckle ball. He calls for the pitch that will get man out. He doesn't care what happens to Sandlock."

Sandlock caught Johnny Lindell's knuckler for Pittsburgh last season. Both now are with the Phillips.

MAYOR IS COACH

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit may not have the best football team in the country. But it's the only team which boasts a grid coach who also is a mayor.

He is line coach Ken Stilley who is mayor of Clairton, Pa.

Bobby Toski Wins Azalea Open Tourney

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—What a difference a year makes. Last spring Bobby Toski finished far back in the pack in the $10,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament. His 291 was good for a tie for 26th place.

Today he was $2,000 richer after leading the field by three shots with a 15-under-par score of 273.

His 70-71 finish followed earlier rounds of 67 and 66 over the 6,652-yard Cape Fear Country Club course.

They feel that at last they've found at least one friend in the National League.

Their Connie Mack Stadium landlords, the Athletics, also completed a deal yesterday, sending catcher Ray Murray to the Baltimore Orioles for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Several days ago an unnamed Phillips spokesman remarked rather pertinently to a Philadelphia newspaperman that nobody in baseball would have anything to do with the club.

This came after club president Bob Carpenter had tried unsuccessfully to close several deals during the winter. Carpenter had made offers for the St. Louis Cardinals' Solly Hemus, the Chicago Cubs' Roy Smalley; the New York Giants' Bob Hoffman, and the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi among others. He was either bypassed or turned down. Smalley and Raschi, for instance, were later traded to the Milwaukee Braves and the Cardinals, respectively.

In Dodgers' general manager Buzz Bavasi he at last found a sympathetic ear. Even there, according to reports, Carpenter almost missed the boat. Bavasi reportedly had tried Saturday to deal Morgan off to the Cubs. In return he demanded outfielder Frankie Baumholz, Chicago said no.

The Phillies have been after infield strength for some time. They have two positions in the infield they are wary about: Willie Jones at third base has not hit as well as was expected when he broke in with the club several years ago and shortstop Ted Kazanski is expected to don Army khaki soon.

PHILS PURCHASE BOBBY MORGAN FROM BROOKLYN

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies are a much happier ball club today after acquiring infielder Bobby Morgan from the Brooklyn Dodgers for second baseman Dick Young and a reported $60,000.

They feel that at last they've found at least one friend in the National League.

Their Connie Mack Stadium landlords, the Athletics, also completed a deal yesterday, sending catcher Ray Murray to the Baltimore Orioles for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Four New Leaders Top Women Bowlers

READING, Pa. (AP)—Four new leaders have emerged from the third weekend of the Pennsylvania State Women's Bowling Tournament.

Stella Miller of Philadelphia rolled games of 177, 174 and 191 to take over the top singles spot with a 542 total. Second is held by Mary Carter, Williamsport, with 539. Irene Levand, Norristown, is third with 538 and Mildred Balon, Shamokin, fourth with 533.

In Class B ranks Doris McDowell, Sunbury, rolled a 515 to pull into a tie with Leah Stateson, Milton. Only other weekend change in the standings was Olive Millington and Pauline Margita, Bloomsburg, who took top spot in Class C doubles with 878.

International Women's Tennis Champion To Play Here April 1

Miss Mary Hardwick, international tennis champion from Great Britain, will conduct a tennis clinic at Gettysburg College April 1.

Miss Hardwick, often referred to as tennis' most graceful player, is a member of the Wilson Tennis Advisory staff along with Jack Kramer, Don Dudge, Bobby Riggs, Alice Marble and Frank Sedgman. Since 1946 she has spent most of her time lecturing on tennis and giving clinics and exhibitions at colleges, schools and in public parks.

She made her America debut in 1940, when she defeated Sarah Palfrey Cooke and Pauline Betz in the National Championships at Forest Hills. That year she also won tournaments in Los Angeles, Palm Beach, Miami, Hot Springs and St. Louis. She made her professional debut at Madison Square Garden in 1941.

From 1936 until 1939 Miss Hardwick was a member of the Wightman Cup Team. In 1937 she was British covered court champion, Scottish champion, mixed doubles Scandinavian doubles champion with Charles Hare, and Scandinavian doubles champion with Freda James. She repeated as Scandinavian single and double champion in 1938, and that year beat Helen Wills Moody as well as the champion of Australia, France and the United States. In 1939, Miss Hardwick toured the West Indies and defeated Sarah Palfrey Cooke twice.

Played For War Reliefs

During World War II, Miss Hardwick played matches for Allied war reliefs, principally the American Red Cross and the USO. In 1943 she and Alice Marble toured military camps, which included the first overseas visit by civilian athletes in wartime. She also played a series of war reliefs for British charities.

Thursday's clinic, to be held in the Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium, will begin at 2:30 o'clock. All college students plus the general public are welcome to attend. Miss Hardwick will conduct a clinic at Wilson College the following day.

Measuring 56'x30', "the Childs" has a cubage of 23,400 feet. At least an 80 foot lot would be required to hold the house and attached garage. This house does not have to be placed too great a distance from the street; simple landscaping will be most suitable.

Almost any type of exterior will be equally suitable and attractive for this modified ranch house. Clapboards or shingles seem most appropriate; however, if you prefer white for the exterior color of the house add color and brightness by using blinds and colored roofing.

can be made just as attractive as you wish, the one window in the back wall of the kitchen provides extra light and ventilation for the breakfast nook. The door in the back wall leads directly to the terrace.

Measuring 20'x12', the garage can be reached from the back yard, through the regular front entry or through the protected side entrance from the piazza. One window in the left wall provides ample light and ventilation. You'll find the garage has plenty of overhead and regular storage space.

The bedrooms in "The Childs" cannot be reached directly from the kitchen; only the central hallway leading from the living room connects with the bedrooms and the bath.

Two windows in the back wall and one in the left wall provide excellent light and cross ventilation for the master bedroom. The large closet in the front all of the 13'x11'4" room contains ample storage area for the "man and woman" of the house.

Master Bedroom

Also opening on the central hallway between the master bedroom and the bathroom, is the linen closet. As this closet is not too large, many will wish to use it for storage of bed linens exclusively, then use the closet in the bathroom itself as a storage place for clean towels, etc.

Containing both a tub and a shower, the bathroom receives good light and ventilation from the window in the back wall. Cross ventilation and of this array of working counters, cupboards and cabinets. In the corner is the large broom closet.

Laundry equipment can very conveniently be placed right in the kitchen of "The Childs"; against the right wall, between the door from the dining room and the stairway to the basement, is the selected location. In this roomy kitchen there's also space for a comfortable breakfast nook.

Sunshine Is Accented In Modern Landscape Style

Flowers give colorful frame about the house but cast no shade.

Owners of modern homes who expect to landscape their grounds this spring should give careful thought to a plan.

A good general rule is to decide what the family can make of the home grounds, for the children's play and the adult's enjoyment, and set aside areas for games, hobbies and service purposes.

To all vegetables and most flowers, excepting a few that are shade-resistant, too much shade means starvation. Sunshine is needed by their leaves to turn what we know as plant foods into sugars, which their cells use in growth and other life processes.

Plant around these useful areas decorative plants which will not interfere with use, and you will be following the fashion in landscaping which promises to prevail in this country for many years to come.

The introduction of functional design for new homes which gives first consideration to the comfort and convenience of the family rather than allowing tradition to dictate the appearance of the house, has forced readjustment of landscape practices.

Foundation plantings of tall growing evergreens and shrubs do not fit homes with no visible foundation. Their simple lines and lack of ornamentation need a touch of gay color in the foreground and the practice of growing flowers in front yards is rapidly spreading.

Front yard flowers create attractive views from picture windows which are intended to look out upon such views, making them contribute to home enjoyment. Large glass areas are intended to bring sunlight into the home; and this can only be accomplished if overplanting of trees and shrubbery too near the house is avoided.

To all vegetables and most flowers, excepting a few that are shade-resistant, too much shade means starvation. Sunshine is needed by their leaves to turn what we know as plant foods into sugars, which their cells use in growth and other life processes.

Experiment in Ohio have shown that brightest summer sunshine falls on the outer leaves of a tree with a light intensity of 13,000 foot candles. Beneath the tree this light is reduced to 500—1,000 with only 300—1,000 in the heavy shade near the trunk.

When sunlight on leaves is reduced to 1,100 foot candles, sugars produced by a plant are all consumed with no reserve for storage. When light is reduced below this "compensation point," starvation begins.

In garden planning you may assume that all garden plants do best in full sunshine; the few that retain vigor in shaded locations must be sought out. Even these few suffer from the competition which the roots of trees and shrubs give them, in the soil. Roots extend around a tree in a circle as large as the top, and some trees, in search of food and water, send their roots incredible distances, in the struggle to survive.

Dillsburg

DILLSBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Helman and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helman Jr. expect to leave East Berlin where they have lived for the past two years, to occupy their new home, the former Chester Thorpston property, York Springs, about April 1.

The infant son of Titus E. and plenty of light and sunshine reach the 11 foot square bedroom through the window in the back wall of the room and the one in the right wall.

The extra large closet in the left wall can be divided in two sections so that one part can be converted into a cedar closet where the family's winter clothing, blankets, etc., can be stored.

Since the laundry equipment is installed in the kitchen of "The Childs," the heating plant is the only "must" installation in the basement. Thus, you'll have an abundance of basement area to do with as you wish.

LONGSHOREMEN PLAN MARCH ON WASHINGTON TO "DEMONSTRATE"

ADMINISTRATOR

and cut down overhead, we have inaugurated a new system. Previously all loan applications were investigated as if each one were brand new. Now, for cooperatives such as yours where you are on a good financial footing, where you have made your payments regularly, where you have proven you are a good financial risk, we can process loans with out the long investigation previously required.

"There have been politicians who have told you that the present administration is opposed to the REA. That is not true. I was lieutenant governor of Minnesota when I was asked to head the REA. I walked into the office of President Eisenhower, he handed me my commission and said 'Do a good job getting electricity and telephones to the farmers.'

Maintain Cooperatives"

"That is the only directive I have ever had.

"Our job now is to maintain the cooperatives. We have for the most part gone through the building program. And we shall devote ourselves to a large extent to help keep the cooperatives on a sound basis.

"There is one thing all of us must remember. Perhaps not as much money is allocated to REA as all of us would like. But the Congress of the United States is constantly faced with the problem of making the money available meet the many worthwhile things there are to do. It can't do it all—there just isn't enough money to go around."

"I remember when my parents finally paid off the mortgage on the farm, how proud and happy they were. It was a mortgage of $2,000. I know how many years of work and hardship they went through to pay off that debt. Today, nationally, we each owe, every man, woman and child of us, nearly $2,000. Our biggest problem today is to maintain the economic stability of our nation, and that comes first, even though we may not have as much money as we may wish for our favorite programs."

Three directors of the cooperative, Howard S. Schwartz, Littlestown; Elmer E. Lauer, Dover, and Clarence E. Jumper, Newville, were re-elected to their posts.

Membership Increases

Manager C. A. Cluck reported an increase of 210 in the number of members during the past year, from 5,381 to 5,591, an increase of 21 miles of lines from 1,391 to 1,412, and an increase in the use of electricity by about 3,000,000 kilowatt hours to 16,183,420 KWH. Total billing increasing from $414,229.31 to $481,520.28. The average bill per year increased from $76.98 to $86.12. Cluck's report shows that the use of electricity by the members has more than doubled in the last five years while membership has increased by 84%.

The cooperative's financial statement as read by Treasurer Howard Schwartz showed the cooperative owed $1,931,725.32 to the federal government and has paid off $260,174.88 on the original $2,191,900 owed.

Income last year totalled $484,257.12. Expenditures were $445,539.40 including $331,680.70 for operating expenses, of which $204,335.72 went for purchase of power. Taxes paid by the cooperative totalled $6,447.73 owned.

The NLRB got a federal judge to issue an injunction forbidding a strike. The ILA struck in defiance. The strike wasn't started officially. The strikers simply said they walked out, although the union gave its endorsement last week.

President Henry E. Miller, Brodecks, presided at the meeting. The invocation was given by Rev. Charles Held, pastor of Mt. Joy Lutheran Church. Howard Sheets provided organ music and Mrs. Fred Siegal led group singing. Ronald Hankey, Donna Gilbert, Suetta Martin and Angie Siegal presented dance numbers accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Siegal. Other entertainment was provided by "The Battlefields" of the SAE Fraternity, Gettysburg College.

Cumberland County Slayer Dies In Electric Chair Today

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—Clyde V. Ensminger died in the electric chair at Rockview Prison early today for the torch slaying of his wife and 13-year-old daughter.

Witnesses said he died as he lived those last weeks since his conviction—calmly and without any outward sign of emotion.

The 35-year-old Cumberland County slayer walked to the execution chamber flanked by four guards and with two ministers following close behind.

He entered the chamber, looked around and nodded to Cumberland County Sheriff Clyde E. Fisher. The mask was placed over his face and seconds later the charge was sent into his body.

He was strapped to the death chair at 12:29 a. m. and the switch sending 2,000 volts of electricity through his body was closed at 12:30 a. m. by Jerry Kraemer, Pittsburgh.

He was pronounced dead at 12:32 a. m. by Dr. J. G. Weixel of Bellefonte.

Parents Claim Body

He was accompanied into the chamber at his own request by the Rev. Paul Hoover of Carlisle, his spiritual advisor during his stay in the Cumberland County jail.

The Rev. Charles F. Lauer, prison chaplain, read the 23rd Psalm as they entered the chamber and while Ensminger was being strapped to the chair.

His body was claimed by his parents.

For his last meal, Ensminger at regular Sunday night prison fare: Sliced cheese, cream of tomato and rice soup, crackers, raisin pie, bread, syrup and tea.

EMMITSBURG, MD.

The double slaying last July was at first thought to have been an accidental oil stove explosion in the Ensminger home in Bloomsburg. At first Ensminger pleaded innocent of the murder charge.

Had Pled Guilty

The former plumber's assistant was sentenced to death after later pleading guilty. In Cumberland County Court to beating his wife and daughter, Ruth Eleanor, in the kitchen of their Bloomsburg home last July then setting fire to their gasoline drenched bodies.

A letter written by Ensminger to Gov. John S. Fine nine days ago revealed a last futile try for a stay of execution.

In the letter, disclosed yesterday by Sheriff Fisher, Ensminger placed the murder guilt on his 16-year-old daughter, Lois.

The letter read:

"...I plead guilty to the charge of murder of my wife and daughter. The reason I entered this plea was to protect my daughter Lois who actually committed the crime. I request a stay of execution in order to be present at the trial of her case as I have asked the sheriff of Cumberland County to file charges against her. Clyde V. Ensminger."

Daughter Is Held

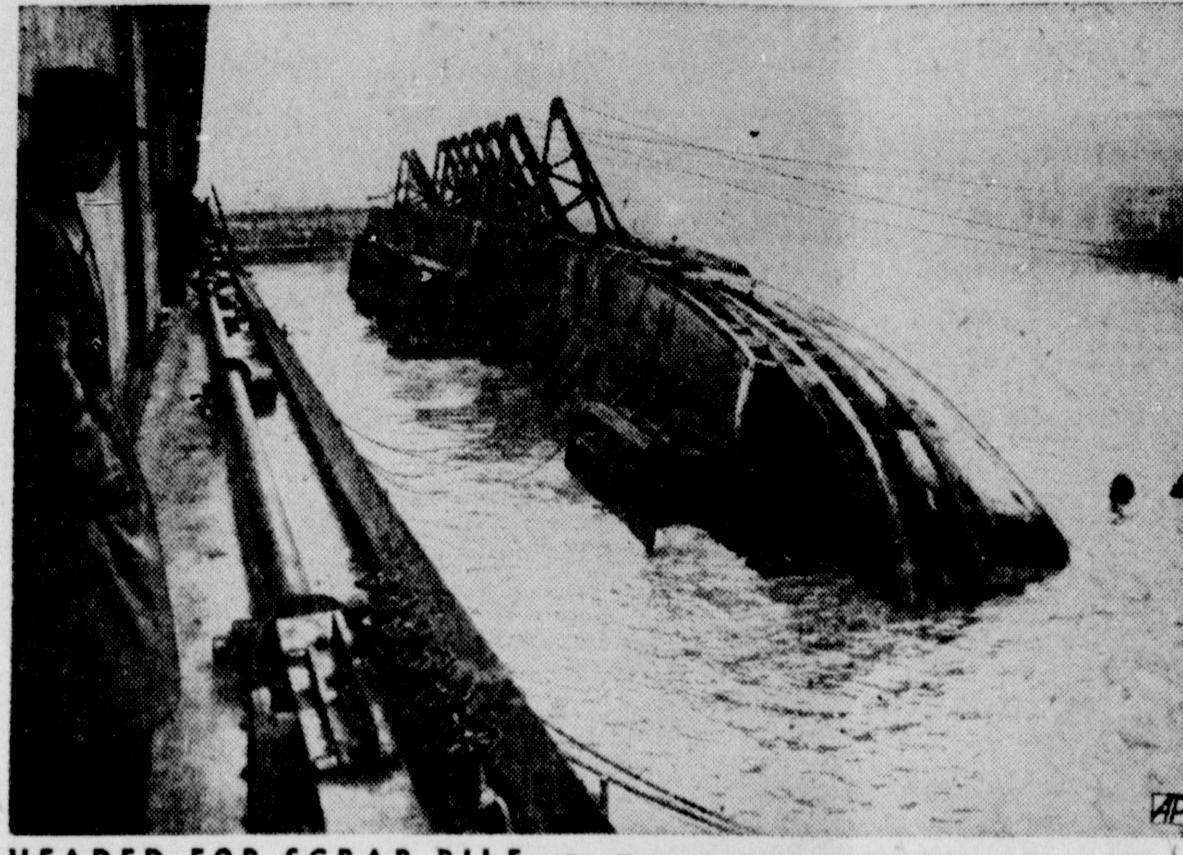

Fisher said the governor refused the stay in a reply two days later.

The daughter, Lois, is being held in prison under a Juvenile Court order. No charges have been filed against her. She testified at the trial last November.

Ensminger was taken from Cumberland County jail to the penitentiary yesterday morning by automobile. In the car were Sheriff Fisher and two deputies.

Judge Dale F. Shugart, who tried the case, ordered the man examined by three psychiatrists who later reported Ensminger fully aware of his actions.

U. S. Guns Aid Turks Stop Russians In 1877

ANKARA (AP)—President Grant beat President Truman to the punch by more than 70 years with military aid to Turkey. Shukru Kasabolu, local historian says the sultan sought to buy 600,000 Springfield rifles from the United States some months before Russia declared war, in April 1877.

The makers couldn't fill the hurry-up order so President Grant authorized drawing 50,000 rifles from government stores for immediate shipment. Records indicate the American guns proved far superior to the rifles used by the Russians. The sultan was so pleased, Kasabolu adds, that he dispatched a specially-woven Turkish carpet to Grant as a gift.

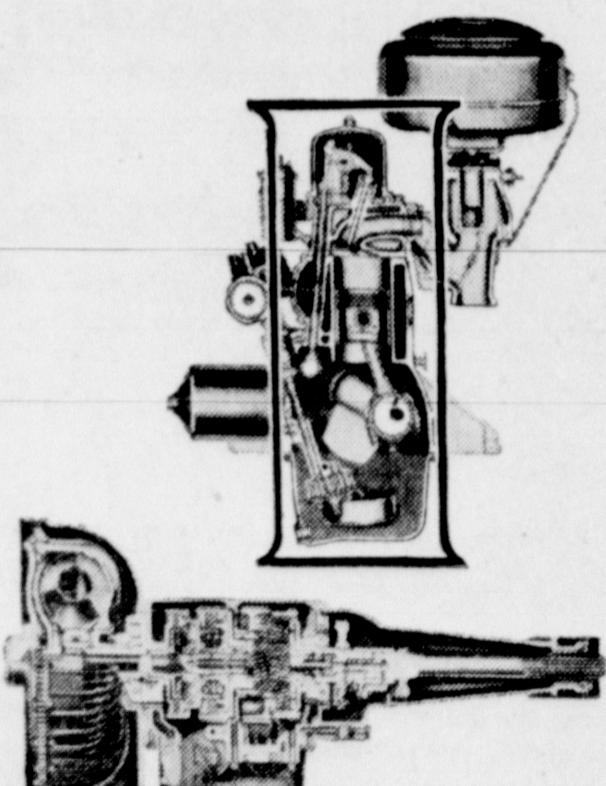

Under the aid program, which began in 1947, the United States has furnished Turkey with more than a billion dollars in military and economic aid. The purpose is the same: to bolster Turkey against Russia.

The new I-block Six-Fordomatic Drive combination is available in any of Ford's 14 body styles. Illustrated is the Customline Six Fordor Sedan.

Ford Six and Fordomatic

A FORDOMATIC FORD IS AUTOMATICALLY WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT . . . WHEN YOU SELL IT, TOO!

The new Ford 115-h.p. I-block Six whisks you along silently, smoothly, economically. Its deep-block build provides rigid crankshaft support for smoother, quieter operation. Low-friction design and high-turbulence combustion chambers mean more miles from less gas. And, thanks to the Six's higher compression and increased displacement, you get extra "GO" power at all speeds!

Fordomatic Drive shifts for you more smoothly than you could do it yourself. It's the only "automatic" in Ford's field to combine a fluid torque converter and an automatic intermediate gear. Should you ever need an extra burst of speed for passing or hill-climbing Fordomatic's intermediate gear takes over automatically when you step down on the accelerator.

You get a double-value power package when you buy a '54 Ford with the new I-block Six and versatile Fordomatic Drive.

This brilliant Ford engine-transmission combination brings you all the smoothness and flexibility of the finest no-shift driving combined with the extra economy that's built into the industry's most modern, short-stroke, overhead-valve Six. And, of course, you get the smooth, level riding comfort, the easier handling of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension, a feature exclusive to Ford in its field.

Remember, too, a Ford Six with Fordomatic Drive is automatically worth more when it comes time for you to sell!

We cordially invite you to Test Drive the Fordomatic Six . . .

FRENCH FORCES BREAK OUT OF BESIEGED FORT

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French Union forces broke out of their besieged fortress of Dien Bien Phu late yesterday and the high command said they killed 1,000 men of the Communist-led Vietminh in a counterattack outside the fortresses' fringes.

French army headquarters announced French tanks, artillery and infantry, under the fortress commander, Col Christian de Castries, killed all Vietminh entrenched in two villages about two miles from the western line of the dusty plain's defenses.

It was the first major French counterattack since the Vietminh launched their great mass assault on the key northwest Indochina outpost March 13.

Killed 3,000

During three days of wave-on-wave infantry charges, the withering French fire killed an estimated 3,000 and wounded another 9,000.

The Vietminh pulled back to regroup, presumably for more mass assaults. Since then they have kept up artillery bombardments from the hills surrounding the plain, while French artillery and aircraft harassed the rebels in reply.

The French command said in the attack yesterday their own forces had only "light losses" of about 20 killed, and had killed "every

HOUSING BILL COMING UP FOR DEBATE TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House faced a decision on whether to follow the recommendations of President Eisenhower or its Appropriations Committee on the public housing issue as leaders scheduled for debate today a bill carrying funds for the program.

The President has asked Congress for a four-year program aimed at building 140,000 low-rent public housing units. The Appropriations Committee recommended last week that the program be ended in two years with the construction of only 35,000 more units.

May Be Special Message

There was some speculation that Eisenhower might send a new expression of his views to Congress.

The House follows recommendations of its Appropriations Committee more often than not, but some Democrats were planning a stiff fight on the housing issue.

They were promised help today from Rep. Javits (R-N.Y.), who said in a statement today that the committee action "must be protested and at least the 35,000 public housing units requested ... must be restored." He added:

Other Controversial Items

The housing funds are contained in a $1-billion-dollar appropriations bill carrying money for a score of independent agencies, the

Tyrene Drowning Was "Accidental"

TYRONE, Pa. (AP) — State police entered a finding of accidental death today in the drowning of Blair E. Mills, 47, of Northwood, near Tyrone.

Mills' body was found Saturday in a creek in the Upper Bald Eagle Valley. An autopsy report gave drowning as the cause of death.

Pfc. Walter Troy of the Rockview state police said their investigation indicated the man fell accidentally into the stream.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR DIES

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Armen Kalfayan, 60, a native of Turkey who came to the U. S. in 1921, died yesterday. He had been a language instructor at Allegheny College here since 1926.

biggest of which are the Veterans Administration and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Some other items in it are also controversial, particularly sharp cuts made by the Appropriations Committee in the budget for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In the aggregate, the bill carries about 6.2 per cent less money than Eisenhower asked for in his budget message.
